PRESS RELEASE

BIS RAIDS FAKE ISI MARKED PRODUCTS

The Bureau of Indian Standards operates the Certification Marks Scheme under the provision of the BIS Act, 1986 for the use of standard mark on various products. As such 107 products, like LPG cylinders, LPG valves, LPG regulators, Packaged Drinking water, various Milk products, Pneumatic Tyres, Electric Cables for House wiring, Steel, Cement, Switches for Domestic use etc. comes under the mandatory certification scheme. With the increase in the popularity of the ISI Standard Mark, instances of misuse are also observed.

Bureau officials of Marks Department, Mumbai(MUBO-1) conducted an enforcement raid on Wednesday, 13 April 2016 at M/s. Kanchan International, Plot - 41/42, Somnath Industrial Co-op Society, Dabhel, Daman 396 210.

During the raid, misuse of ISI mark was found on Domestic Pressure Cookers & Non Stick Cookware's, without valid BIS licence and also printed cartons containing ISI mark with CM/I Number and IS number. Substantial quantity of Domestic Pressure Cooker (850 Nos. approx.) and Non Stick Cookware's (1300 Nos. approx.) with spurious marking were seized.

It was observed many times that fake ISI mark products are manufactured and sold to common consumer for their huge profit. It is therefore suggested that people have to ascertain the product genuineness of ISI mark before purchase. For further information contact BIS website www.bis.org.in. Information of provider to BIS will be kept confidential.
